

Ethics, Laws, and Rules of the Professional Counselor in Michigan Saturday, February 18, 2012

Program Description

Although it is easy to become immersed in the day to day concerns of our clinical and administrative duties, knowing and complying with the ethical codes, and the laws and rules that govern us are essential and ongoing elements of our identity as professional counselors. This seminar will address these legal and ethical responsibilities. Together we'll explore a variety of situations and appropriate and effective ways to interpret and act upon them. Becoming familiar with and comfortable in using the ACA Code of Ethics (a copy will be provided to each participant) is one of the course objectives. Participants will review the federal and Michigan laws that pertain to professional counselors and will become familiar with the Michigan Board of Counseling and its role in creating the administrative rules. This will be both a learning experience as well as an opportunity to renew your commitment to the highest ideals of our profession.

About the Presenter

Mary is a licensed professional counselor and a national certified counselor. She has been in private clinical practice since 1981 and her office is in Northville. She is an active member of her professional associations and an Approved Consultant by the American Society of Clinical Hypnosis (ASCH). In addition to a deep love for providing counseling services, Dr. Miller loves teaching and is currently a core faculty member in the M.S. in Counseling program with the University of Phoenix, Detroit campus. She has taught as an adjunct professor at the University of South Florida, Hillsborough Community College in Tampa, Florida, and National-Louis University. In addition she creates seminars for mental health professionals. Dr. Miller deeply values professionalism and the privileged role each of us has in listening to those who come to us and evoking their inner resources for growth as a mentally healthy person, problem solving, and enhancing their life experiences.
